TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

DR. GIBBON'S DISPENSARY,
(Established in 1854)
617 Kearney Street, near Commercial, San Francisco.

EXPOSURE OF QUACKERY.

For the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as gonorrhœa, gleet, stricture, syphilis in all its forms; seminal weakness, impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated legs, successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe—among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High St., Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Luke's, Old street; St. Mary's, Camb Place, Pad.; Lock, Harrow road; University, Gower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary; Charring Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road; Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DR. GIBBON has visited Drs. Acton of London; Parker of Birmingham, England, and Ricord of Paris, who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DR. GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment, which cannot be surpassed.

DR. GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1, 1865.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces, and their broken constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians and friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended Doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strick inquiry, or may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Syphilis is Syphilis the world over; so is small pox consumption and other diseases, to the contrary of what quacks may say.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Weakness, the consequence of sel-abuse.—This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures; sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunt intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by this new and scientific mode of treating this complaint, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give $100 to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to DR. GIBBON, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for ten dollars, sent in a registered leter, or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney street, near Commercial, San Francisco, Postoffice Box 252.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and prerenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly papers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trade. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper-carriers, intelligence office, keepers, etc.—Look over the San Francisco City Directory and you will find their former occupation in it. Look at the Directory for 1862. The only way to avoid imposition is make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for, advertising physicians in eight cases of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting till you know what they are. DR. GIBBON does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. DR. GIBBON will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Prevention Better than Cure.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A CAT.

(A CHRISTMAS STORY FOR LITTLE FOLKS.)

BY J. F. MAGUIRE.

My early recollections are very indistinct and shadowy. I suppose it is the same with all cats, and indeed the cat who asserts to the contrary is not much to be trusted. Of papa I have no remembrance whatever. If cats were like crocodiles or human beings and could shed tears at will, I should weep continually as I think of my honored mother; but as we are denied the luxury of tears, my eyes must perforce be dry, though my heart overflows with the tenderest sensibility as I recall to my mind that best of parents. Excellent mamma! she is before me at this moment, as I saw her many, many years since, her eyes almost closed, and an expression of sweet serenity beaming over her demure countenance. Even now, I feel her tongue rubbing me vigorously against the hair or polishing my furry coat, and I shrink in imagination from the lightning stroke of her nervous paw, as I provoke her anger by my impertinence and tricks. My mother was a remarkable cat. She had her failings—what cat has not? But she had many and great virtues that more than counterbalanced any weakness common to the feline nature. If she did at times deal sternly with me, I must do my beloved parent the justice to admit the fault was mine. I could not see this at the time; but our feelings change as we advance in life, and I myself have been a mother and know how necessary it is to correct the follies of the young, and prevent them from presuming upon the affection of their superiors. I was frisky, lively, and, I must confess it, ever at some mischief or other. Not content when playing with my own tail, or the tail of my favorite brother, I used to pounce in the most indiscreet manner on the tail of my mamma. Indeed, she never could indulge in a gentle wag of her beautiful appendage, that I had not my claws fast in it, too often to my mamma's intense agony. You may be sure, dear reader, I paid for my temerity, for mamma specially detested any liberty with her tail, and keenly resented what she termed a great personal indignity. Mamma frequently remonstrated with me, and implored me to be prudent and have sense; and her excellent advice would influence me for a minute or two, and I would make all kinds of promises of amendment, but, alas! scarcely did I catch sight of the maternal tail in motion than I was down on it again. My mother declared I was incorrigible, that I was breaking her heart, bringing her with sorrow to an early grave, and that I would rue the day I lost such a parent; and she either commenced or concluded her lecture with a box on the ear that knocked all spirits out of me for nearly five minutes. Yet, alas! such is youth, I was "at it again," as my brother said, in a moment after.

A better mother kitten never had than I possessed in mamma. My coat soon became glossy under the touch of her skillful tongue, nor was my education in the least degree neglected. My mother was too conscientious to neglect any of the duties of maternity, and she discharged them all with rigid propriety. I was little more than two months old when I could master a full grown mouse that my mamma had judiciously crippled so as not to overtask my infant powers; and scarcely was I four months in this world of care, when I caught and killed a mouse of venerable aspect that certainly must have been the father of a numerous family. Mamma highly complimented me on what she termed my surprising prowess, and expressed a hope that the day was not far distant when I should fulfil the highest object of her ambition, namely, kill a rat at a single pounce. I felt a glow of exquisite pleasure through my whole frame, even to the tip of my tail at dear mamma's praise and modestly replied that my fondest wish was to merit the approval. How sweet the smile that passed over her pensive face, which yet had not lost the charm of youth, as she called me her own darling, and gently passed the soft side of her tongue over my head and back. And when I was good, how tenderly her fore paw would embrace my tiny person as I lay snugly on her warm breast. Dear mother, I shall never forget your tenderness for your silly and too frisky child? Before I proceed further it may be necessary to say something of the family with whom my mother had lived since her youth, and by whom. I may add, she was looked upon as a member. The master of the house was a respectable physician in good practice, and had been married ten years before I was born. For obvious reasons I shall simply describe him as the Doctor, and his wife as the mistress, as it is not my intention to cause pain to people who for so many years afforded the shelter of a roof to my honored parent. Four children, Fannie, Janey, Harry and Alphry, were the fruits of a happy union. Naturally these young people may have had the tenderest hearts in the world and I have no doubt they had no particular wish to be cruel; but if they were a torment to my mamma, pouncing on her head, or dashing at her tail, as she was preparing for a comfortable snooze, I should like to know what these four precious children were to me? As for Alphry, he was my evil genius. The Doctor was partial to our race, (he was over thirty when he married and, often declared that between widows and maidens he felt decidedly—shelf—y) and liked to see my mother in his office, seated on the arm of his chair, or coiled snugly behind the stove. He had been equally fond of my grandmother, mamma's respected parent, but that excellent and indiscreet cat having rashly attempted to rear mamma with my uncle in his wife's best bonnet and black lace veil (which he found one morning in his garden thereby hanging a tale, not my grandmother's,) she was cruelly banished with every mark of ignominy, from a home which she had adorned for many years by her presence and her virtues. Grandmamma it is true had a confirmed weakness for bonnets and muffs, bandboxes, drawers, presses and barrels of soft sugar; but, after all, should not the faithful cat, who for whole nights watched by a hole to seize the nasty, wicked rat, be pardoned for a trifling error of the kind? Hard-heartedness is however surely followed by its own punishment. It was so in the case of persecuted grandma, for scarcely had she been driven in shame from the house, when the mice appeared in the bedrooms and the parlors, and the rats invaded the kitchen, the cellars, and the pantries. Then was poor grandmamma's merits appreciated but too late. she had been borne away to a distant part of the country in a horrid basket, amid her own cries and those of her orphaned children, mamma and uncle. Fortunately mamma and her brother soon exhibited such courage and determination as to compensate in some measure for the loss of grandmamma, and as the rats and mice ceased to trouble ere very long, grandmamma was soon forgotten by the family though not by her affectionate children, especially mamma. The mistress was a good woman but most liable to prejudice, (pretty women generally are they say) and though a visit to Adler's had long consoled her for the loss of the bonnet and veil in which grandmamma had nursed her darlings, I think she seemed to connect mamma and uncle in some way with that event. At any rate, uncle was not more than a year old when he was made a present of to the Doctor's friend, a worthy banker, who might be truly called the poor man's friend. Uncle began his new career in a large hotel under the most favourable circumstances, and was an object of the tenderest solicitude to the wife of the worthy man to whose care he was consigned. Unhappily uncle's want of moral firmness, was the cause of his eventual disgrace; but he did not quit his new home before he had greatly improved his mind in the society of cultivated persons who frequented this hotel. My uncle was a cat of splendid appearance, and most ingratiating manners, but he was weak, weak in spirit I have no doubt he made the best resolutions, and if he could only have kept them, all might be well; unfortunately, he could not, so he fell. His weakness was butter! butter! in any shape he could not resist. It was too much fo his virtue. Such was my relative's infatuation I believe he would have sold himself to a furrier for a pound of butter. At first, as he afterwards confided to mamma, who I may say reproached him bitterly for his folly and ingratitude, he limited himself to a casual lick, or a wee dip into the cream pitcher; but emboldened by freedom from discovery, he grew to be quite reckless in his misconduct, and eventually nothing would do him, but to lick the entire impression off his master's butter, and drink the greatest part of his cream. His master's wife and landlady could not for a time understand why the surface of his butter presented so smooth a surface, as he missed the pretty, ornamental design which the latter had impressed on it a few minutes before. At length he questioned the waiters, but they could give no satisfactory answer whatever of what her master called a phenomenon. Cat Rothschild—uncle's name, given by his master—was never suspected. The regularity of his life, and the amiability of his disposition placed him beyond suspicion. Even the chambermaid never dreamed of accusing Uncle Rothschild of misconduct. But one morning Uncle had made a complete finish of the butter, by licking it as smooth as his own fur, and had his head deep in the milk pitcher his master softly entered, and caught the wretched culprit in the act. Enraged at what he witnessed, he flung a book which he had in his hand—he had just brought it in to his wife who was a great reader—at poor Uncle, who was absorbed in his unlawful indulgence and the missile striking my amiable but faulty relation knocked him over like a ninepin, creating an awful clatter among the cups and saucers. Rothschild dashed first at the window, then at the stove pipe, then over the boarders (who had flocked in thinking the three churches had united, sides and roofs in one, thereby crushing their home to smithereens) heads escaping to the lower regions from which he did not make his appearance for more than a month. The waiters' horror was equalled only by his master's and mistress' indignation. At length, however, my Uncle began to show himself in the breakfast-room, and once more familiarly rub himself against his master's legs, and even sat upon his knee as the worthy man played with his little daughter, while his wife read aloud from her favorite authors, much to the benefit of penitent relative's intellect. But, poor fellow, if he lived to the age of the oldest cat that ever lapped milk, or hunted rat, he would still be prone to weakness and unable to resist temptation, where the seduction assumed the shape of cream or butter. The hour of his final disgrace came but too soon. His master had invited some friends to breakfast, and as these friends were persons of particular consequence, the waiter was requested to look sharp, and to see that everything was to be of the nicest, regardless of trouble or cost. Be most particular, said his mistress, and have the butter the freshest you can get, and get some choice cream from Brown; a good cup of coffee tastes poorly without good cream. The waiter promised strict obedience to the lady's orders. Alas! these orders were spoken in the presence of my uncle, whose old passion blazed out in a moment. Licking his chops at the fatally seductive words of his master, he swore. No! he didn't swear—to do him justice—he had not that bad habit; but he vowed to have the first of the above-mentioned luxuries for himself. Too truly did he keep his rash vow. Hiding behind the curtain, he waited in concealment until the waiter had laid the table, had left the room, and shut the door, after having looked every where to see if Rothschild was there; and then, jumping on the table, my unhappy uncle polished off the butter to a nicety, and afterwards made a splendid meal of the cream. Scarcely had the guilty glutton filled his stomach with the forbidden luxuries, than he was also filled with remorse, which is a bad digester. He did not exactly call on the ground to open and swallow him, for uncle was not a cat given to extravagance of language, but he instinctively stole under the shadow of the sofa, and there awaited the result. A tremendous clatter at the door announced the arrival of the guests. My uncle's conscience smote him, as footsteps approached, and the door was opened by his master. If he could have done so, miserable Rothschild would have rushed out, and betaken himself to Cohen's—any where—to escape this just punishment that he knew awaited him, but he had not the courage even to attempt to slink away. The waiter brought in the urn—tea was made, ham, eggs, chops, etc., were duly served, and his mistress poured out the tea for her friends. Cream and sugar, I said the hostess, more as a matter of form than for information, for she knew her friends' taste of old. "You need not ask me," replied her guest, in a cheery voice. "I am only too partial to both." The culprit under the sofa shuddered as these simple words reached his guilty ears. "Then, you shall have both. Why! What's the matter; where's the cream, and who has been at the butter. O! that infernal Rothschild! My dear, don't you see his handiwork here?" Roared the banker. "If I don't pay the rascal for this morning's work—may I be—blessed!" "Rascal! Rothschild; what's the meaning of this; who's Rothschild, and how has that Prince of Bankers offended you! What has he done?" "Drank the cream and licked the butter; that's all; and I think its enough," chimed in his wife in a low, sad voice. "Who is he? A filthy beast of a cat; that played us this trick before; but will never, I promise you, do the like again, at least to us," replied the furious host.

RECONSTRUCTION IN TENNESSEE.

The loyal men of Tennessee have sent an able and candid address to the President, and another of similar character and import to Congress, upon the subject of reconstruction and the condition of affairs in that State. These addresses are signed by the State Central Committee of the Union party of the State, the party and the men that stood by Andy Johnson and the Government during the war, and they show most clearly—if what they say be true—that if Tennessee is "restored," at present and according to the present programme, the rebels, and not loyal men, will have control of the State Government, the Judiciary and of everything, while the loyal Union men will be ostracised, persecuted and oppressed, the same as they were when the same rebels had control under the reign of Jeff Davis and his "Confederacy." And what is true of Tennessee is true of every other of the so-called rebel States. Restore them now, and according to what is called the President's policy, and you simply restore the rebels to power, and place every Union man in the South, white and black, under their feet. This fact is clear to our mind, it has been so from the first; and we can but think it will yet become apparent to the minds of those at the head of our national affairs, and in time to avert the danger, by delaying restoration, or changing its "policy."

But that our readers may see that we do not exaggerate in regard to what the Union men of Tennessee say, we give the following extract from their address to the President, or rather the concluding portion of it:

"Grave doubts are felt whether the present Legislature will pass a law which will prevent the political ascendency of rebels in Tennessee. The returned rebel soldiers and those who affiliate with them openly boast that at the next general election they will obtain entire control of the State Government. Indeed, it is now the case in many counties that those most notorious for the advocacy and support of the rebellion are first to receive the support of the people for office. Service in the rebel army is, in many parts of the State, the best passports to position and power, while to have been connected with the Union army is regarded as a stigma deeper and more indelible than the brand upon the brow of Cain.

Under the appointing power, as exercised by Governor Brownlow, we now have a legal Judiciary; yet all their power and influence cannot prevent rebel juries from practicing the grossest injustice toward loyal men, while it is almost impossible to bring rebel offenders to justice. Should the judiciary of our State fall into rebel control, sad indeed will be the condition of those who, trusting to the nation's faith, have breasted the storm of treason. Thus, in a social and business point of view, Union men and Union families are proscribed and insulted. We mention these points simply to show the spirit which still actuates those who have been engaged in the rebellion, and to indicate the policy they will pursue if, as they anticipate and we fear, they should be restored to power in Tennessee. They, now submit to the national authority simply because they can no longer resist it. They accept the situation for the reason that they cannot avoid it. They acknowledge their defeat, but glory in the stubbornness with which they resisted. They resign their hopes of a confederacy, but maintain the justness of their cause.

With them language is inadequate to express the scorn and contempt they feel and cherish toward those Tennesseeans, who, as they allege, betrayed the southern honor and southern independence by joining the ranks of the oppressor. Their protestation of loyalty are sheer hypocrisy, a mask assumed for a pretext, to be thrown off when that object is accomplished. In our opinion the masses of the common people, who were misled and betrayed by demagogues to rebellion, have in sincerity and truth, returned to their allegience to the Government of their fathers. We do not say that the masses are not honest and patriotic, according to their convictions; but their convictions were formed under the false teachings of those who educated the Southern mind, and fired the Southern heart for rebellion. The false teachers still direct public sentiment. Rebel lawyers are still their trusted legal advisers; rebel preachers still fulminate from the pulpit; rebel physicians still visit their families; rebel teachers still instruct their children, and rebel presses still disseminate among them the perverted views and pernicious doctrines which have wrought all this ruin in the land. It is in fact among the common people, who have less reason for practicing dissimulation, and who are less influenced by motives of policy, that we find the most unequivocal expressions of deep-seated hostility to the Government and friends of the Government.

In reference to the freedmen, there is no mistaking the ultimate designs of those who thus aspire to control the future legislation of the State. They acknowledge emancipation as an accomplished fact, but by no means regard the fact as legally accomplished. They denounce it as an act of foul injustice, and as sure as they attain the asscendency, under circumstances which will permit them to carry out their designs by legislation procedure, reduce them to bondage more abject than that from which they have escaped.

We have thus stated briefly, as we promised, the conclusions to which our observations have led us as to the present and prospective condition here. We have no fears that you will regard this plain statement as an act of officiousness on our part. We feel assured your interest in the great cause for which together we have labored in times of personal and public peril has suffered no diminution, and you will regard whatever may effect the public interest of the State, with which you have been so long and so honorably identified, as a matter of the deepest concern.

We suggest no especial measures of policy for your consideration, believing as we do that your wisdom, aided by that of your constitutional advisors, will best discern the means to avert the dangers apprehended. Our delegations are now asking admission to Congress. We need not assure you we earnestly desire their admission. They are for the most part men in whose patriotism and soundness of judgement we have the utmost confidence. Some of them have done excellent service in the national cause, in the council and in the field. As loyal Representatives and Senators of Tennesseeans, we believe that their voice should be heard in the national councils, and we trust that as such they may act in devising such a just and wise policy as will secure the full and final success to the friends of the Union, not only in Tennessee, but throughout the country. We have, however, no hesitation in declaring that if the consequences of their admission must necessarily be the withdrawal of all further restraint upon the rebels of Tennessee by the authorities of the General Government, and the surrender of our State and its loyal people to rebel domination, we are not prepared for the sacrifice. Too well do we know and too painfully have we experienced that their tenderest mercies are cruelties, to be willing ever again to pass under their yoke.

GOOD DOCTRINE.

There is occasionally an individual in the South who understands the situation. The clamor for reinstatement now indulged in by the Southern people, does not betray a consciousness that they have been conquered into their present situation. They ought not to expect implicit confidence on the part of their conquerors, nor should they expect the Government to abandon its friends to their tender mercies. By their own misdeeds they have placed their late slaves above themselves as faithful citizens; and this fact they should comprehend at once. That there are men in the South who do comprehend it, it is pleasant to know, and it is gratifying to find sentiments like the following which we find in the Chicago Republican taken from a Southern paper:

"We want to re-establish our State Government in the full power and freedom that it had previous to secession. We want re-admission into a participation in the control of the Federal Government. Now consider calmly that we lost the latter of these desiderata by our own free withdrawal and renunciation, and the former by the last arbitrament known to men. In what modified phrases soever we may put it, we declared ourselves, by word and deed, the public enemy of the United States, and in the event were and are subjugated.

Let us not mince words. Subjugated is the term; or we have basely submitted to be where and what we are. And practically, however we may spurn the epithet, we are rebels that have been subdued by the power of the United States. These being the plain facts, let us endeavor to shape our ideas and actions in some sort of accordance with them. The power that we defied and resisted asks indemnity for the past and security for the future. Be they just or unjust, are we in a position to refuse these requisitions? For myself, I must confess that (in view of all the circumstances) I do not think it unreasonable that some conditions precedent should be exacted in our re-instatement. This being conceded, it follows that it is not for us, but for the dominant party, to fix the particular terms. What are the conditions insisted upon? They are, that we recognize and submit to, in good faith, the abolishment of slavery; that, in the private interests of the freedmen, we shall admit the testimonies of negroes to our courts; and finally, that as a natural security against future secession, we invest the freedmen, in some equitable manner, with the elective franchise. These items fall heavily upon our preconceptions and prejudices. But can we evade them? are we prepared to absolutely reject them, and to take the consequences? We have already accepted the first condition with amazing grace; the second, after some clumsy temporizing, will be agreed to; but we treat the third as a nauseous draught that we would rather die than take.

"I am as much opposed to allowing these freedmen to come en masse to the ballot-box as any man; and four years service in the illustrious A. N. V. should be surety that I am incapable of a thought or feeling inimical to the South. But I can freely declare that I know many negroes better qualified for the suffrage, morally and intellectually, than thousands of the present white voters. Whether any man's color should exclude him from political privileges I am in some doubt but I am quite sure that no man's color should invest him with such privileges. My proposition suggests a compromise between extremists. No man, of what complexion soever, should be permitted to vote unless properly qualified; yet, so qualified, he shall vote, be he as black as Erebus. The proposed measure will admit but few freedmen—and those of a superior class—to the franchise, and will exclude forever the vast body of ignorance and ruffianism, whose just destiny is to be governed, and not to govern. I think we will be infinite gainers by this plan. If we delay, or persistently refuse the privilege of suffrage to these freedmen in this restricted form, we are likely to have universal suffrage granted to them by act of Congress. Give the blacks the qualified franchise I suggest, and fierce Thaddeus Stevens may relent."

A SHORT LOVE STORY.—Single ladies cross the water under the special care of the captain of the ship, and if a love affair occurs among the passengers the captain is usually a confident of one or both parties. A very fascinating young lady had been placed under Capt. Morgan's care, and three young gentlemen fell desperately in love with her. They were all equally agreeable, and the young lady was puzzled which to encourage. She asked the captain's advice: "Come on deck," he said, "the first day it is perfectly calm, the gentlemen will of course be near you. I shall have a boat lowered down, do you jump overboard, and see which of the gentlemen will jump after you." A calm day soon came, the captain's suggestions were followed, and two of the lovers jumped after the lady at the instant. But between these two the lady could not decide, so exactly had been their devotion. She had again consulted the captain. "Take the man that didn't jump—he is the most sensible fellow and will make you the best husband."

A LADY, a regular shopper, who had made an unfortunate clerk tumble over all the stockings in the store, objected that none were long enough. "I want," she said, "the longest hose that are made." "Then, madam," was the reply, "you'd better apply to the next engine house."

THE Assembly on Wednesday adopted resolutions sustaining Congress, as against the President, and endorsing our Congressional delegation.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—On last Saturday, Mr. Stanley, a brewer of Auburn, while on his way home from Illinoistown, was stopped a short distance below that place by a footpad and ordered to "pungle," which he did, to the amount of $52—all he had with him.

THOMAS OLENERAS, says the Los Angeles News, charged with assaulting his wife with a riata and beating her until she died, was on the 20th instant convicted with manslaughter, in the District Court.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 10, 1866

Now, by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on,
The Stars and Stripes are up for Liberty,
Flag of the Nation--Talisman of the Free,
Curs'd be the hand that dares to pull thee down.

UNION MEETING.--The citizens of Dutch Flat and vicinity will doubtless be pleased to learn that there will be a Union meeting held at the new Union Church in this place to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock. The services will be performed conjointly by Rev. J. A. Johnson and Rev. N. R. Peck, both gentlemen eminently sound in their opinions and sentiments relative to the course of the Congressional majority, and much sound Union doctrine may be expected on the occasion referred to. These gentlemen think it their duty--as well as ourself--that they should labor, not only for the salvation of souls, but to educate the public mind to a healthy state in regard to their duties and responsibilities to their country and mankind. The occasion chosen is one fit for the expression of Union sentiment in sustaining those who have nobly fought for the amelioration of human misery. Persons who desire to hear these gentlemen would do well to go at an early hour.

CATHOLIC SERVICE.--The Rev. Father D. Nugent will hold Catholic service in the new Catholic church to-morrow at 10 o'clock, A. M.

THE CONTEMPT CASE.--An anonymous petition was read in the Senate Chamber on Wednesday last by Mr. Heacock, purporting to be from "many friends," asking that McCarthy be removed from the Sacramento jail, as his health, and in fact life was endangered by his further incarceration. The Senate rejected the petition and Senator Kutz introduced a resolution which was passed, providing that McCarthy should give such information as would enable the Senate to arrive at a knowledge of the persons from whom McCarthy received his information which was the basis of the alleged slanderous article published by him, when he should be considered as having purged himself. This, it appears to us, affords Mr. McCarthy every opportunity of purging himself of the charge of contempt to the Senate, and if he does not embrace it, all sympathy which may have been hitherto felt for him will very justly be withdrawn. No one has a right to bring such grave charges as he did without giving the accused parties every opportunity of proving themselves innocent. This is no trivial matter, affecting, as it does, the character and honor of members of the highest legislative branch of a great State, and should be investigated to the fullest extent in order that the respectability and fair fame of the State be sustained. McCarthy owes to the members a full, clear and concise statement of all facts that he may be possessed of that they visit merited punishment on the guilty parties, if any there are, and since he has published the accusation, and been arrested, he owes it to himself and the public that he disclose all facts, if he is possessed of any, in relation to this mattter, that he may be acquitted before the world of making false and slanderous statements. His continued reticence naturally leads one to the opinion that he has but little to disclose, and if this should prove to be the case, the Senate cannot too severely punish him for the disgraceful statements he has published.

THE MITES.--This society had one of its pleasant re-unions on Tuesday evening last. The usual hilarity and good feeling prevailed, and dancing was kept up till a late hour. We understand that $23 was the amount netted for the benefit of the Union Church. In this connection we may mention that a concert will shortly be given for the same purpose, and as considerable local musical talent will be on hand, we anticipate a large audience. The Mites will give another social on Tuesday next.

NEW DISCOVERIES.--It is currently reported that some very rich quartz ledges have been discovered about fifteen miles above this place, between the American and Bear rivers. Several locations have been made and the fortunate prospectors are exceedingly sanguine with regard to the value of the mines. They seem to be of opinion that the croppings are unsurpassed in richness by any in the State, and we only trust that all their hopes may be realized.

CELESTIAL.--Our citizens are nightly in danger of having their premises set on fire by the torches which our celestial neighbors are constantly carrying through the streets in place of lanterns. Large flakes of fire drop from these torches on the wooden sidewalks, and in case it should be blown under a dwelling house or other premises, serious consequences might be the result. Steps should be taken to put a stop to this dangerous practice.

BENEFIT BALL.--A ball will be given at the Golden Eagle Hall, on Thursday evening, the 15th inst., for the benefit of Mrs. Fitzgerald. The beneficiary is at present in very poor circumstances, and we trust that a knowledge of this fact will be accepted as sufficient reason for our charitable citizens to assemble in such numbers as to make the ball productive of something substantial for the lady. A good time may be expected.

BEER-Y.--Those partial to a good glass of lager beer, would do well to call and see Mr. Palmtag, at the "Boomerang," where this exhilarating fluid is always to be found "sparkling and bright." Being located so close to the brewery he can always guarantee the liquid fresh.

IVORY.--We lately visited the dental repository of Dr. Wilson, at Golden Eagle Hall, and from an examination of his workmanship in this particular line, we have no hesitation in pronouncing it the best we have seen in the mountains. The doctor is at all times ready to manipulate upon all who are short of masticators.

MOTTO.--In reference to the anxiety of the Fenians to be recognized as a beligerent power by the United States' Government a friend of ours suggests for their adoption the following motto which we consider decidedly appropriate: "Erin go Unum, E Pluribus Bragh!"

IT stormed terribly this week--rain--snow.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITAL.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

SACRAMENTO, March 7, 1866.

EDITOR ENQUIRER:--"The Ides of March" which the Roman soothsayers predicted truly would be fatal to Cæsar, have arrived, and the astute Legislature of California in its second Biennial Session is gradually nearing its terminus, for all of which the sovereign people of the State have abundant cause to congratulate themselves. The session expires by Constitutional limitation on the 3rd of April. By good rights, or reasoning from analogy, the body would more appropriately close its labors on the 1st. If Gov. Low, relieved of a weight of responsibility, and jubilant over a good riddance of a public nuisance doesn't forthwith after the adjournment issue a proclamation for a general Thanksgiving--he is made of sterner stuff than we take him to be. For all practical purposes--and so far as the real benefit of the State at large is concerned--the Legislature might have adjourned two months ago without detriment to the public interest, but as $10 per diem is not so easily made now-a-days as it was in the fall of '49 or the Spring of '50, the Members will hold on to the term limited by the constitutional limit aforesaid, for they are sharp enough not to let go a good thing as long as it pays. So far as Legislation for the benefit of the public at large is concerned the Assembly is far in advance of the Senate, and for some days past the action of the Lower House has been mainly confined to local and special legislation--which has always been the curse of our State since its first organization. For instance, while the Legislature has been beset and besieged every session for the past six or eight years, to grant franchises for Street Railroads, in San Francisco the mammoth concern of the whole batch--the omnibus--has been besieging the present Legislature, for authority to raise the fares from 5 to 10 cents. The representation to lobby the bill through was tremendous, and the outside pressure immense. Free tickets over the road were distributed liberally to such of the members as have visited San Francisco which has been the case each Saturday during the session. On last Saturday both Houses adjourned over till Tuesday, in order to make the trip to San Francisco on Sunday on the new steamer Capital, which made its first voyage to the Capital of the State the day previous. The California Steam Navigation Company have spared no expense on this model craft, which far surpasses any of the boats previously constructed for the corporation. The command has been given to Capt. E. A. Poole, one of the most careful and trustworthy officers ever employed by the company. Capt. Johnson is First Clerk, and John Attansin, the model caterer formerly of the Antelope, Steward. She is roomy, airy, and the comfort and convenience of passengers have been consulted in every particular.

In the Assembly quite an exciting scene occurred to-day over the bill providing for the indemnity by the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco, of the loss sustained by T. A. Brady of the Monitor, for the destruction of the type and material of that paper, by the mob on the 15th of last April. Able speeches in favor of the bill were made by Messrs. Wilcox, Lupton, McClellan and Sawyer, the latter of whom, having conducted the Calaveras Chronicle for some years past, made an able appeal in behalf of the liberty of the press, denounced mobs and the incarceration of D. O. McCarthy of the American Flag, in a felon's cell, for the expression of opinion in his paper. Messrs. Dutton, Hart, Sherwood and others opposed the measure, which was eventually lost by a very close vote. The result on the motion to indefinitely postpone, stood ayes 33, noes 31.

With regard to McCarthy's case, the Editor and proprietor of the Flag still remains in durance vile. His quarters in the Sacramento jail are represented as being anything but desirable and from all accounts it is not to be wondered at that Gelston took French leave of his quarters. It is whispered about among the knowing ones that this prisoner is still in Sacramento and doing "as well as could be expected."

A resolution introduced in the Senate to-day by Senator Kutz of Nevada, who voted for the commitment of McCarthy, to the effect that he be released from confinement on his furnishing the Committee with the names of the witnesses he relied upon to prove his charges of bribery and corruption made against certain Members of the Senate, was adopted, but it is not known whether the Flag man will comply with the terms.

The Senate on yesterday passed to engrossment the bill of Senator Knox of Santa Clara, taxing the property of religious denominations and charitable associations over and above that in actual use for the purposes of such associations. When it is known that church corporations, and certain benevolent and other landed associations, are among the largest owners and heaviest speculators in real estate in California, while all other classes of community are burdened with a heavy load of taxation, there is no good reason why such wealthy and flourishing corporations should be exempt. The bill passed to engrossment by a close vote, and will undoubtedly go through the Senate on its final passage, although the leading clergy of all denominations oppose it as an invasion of their rights. If it goes through the Senate its passage through the Assembly is a foregone conclusion.

After a thorough investigation it turns out that the individual brought down here from Idaho heavily loaded with irons--for Wells the murderer--is Donald McDonald, a Scotchman who bears some resemblance to Wells but is not the man. He has been identified by a number of parties who have known, employed, and worked with him in former times. Although he may congratulate himself on his escape, it is no joke to be dragged off in irons several hundred miles. As the matter stands it is a clear case of mistaken identity.

The Sacramento club gave another fandango at Turn Vereen Hall last night, to which the Members of both Houses were invited. Placer was represented by Messrs. Yule, Hale, Sexton and Bosquit, who appeared to enjoy themselves hugely.

SIMON SNAPPER.

The Supervisors of Nevada county, so we learn from the Transcript, have created a new Township out of the eastern portion of that county, and called it Meadow Lake. As almost everybody hereabouts will go up there in the spring we give the boundaries, which are as follows:

"Commencing at a point on the north line of the county of Placer, due south of the Pacific Turnpike Co's. bridge crossing the South Yuba river, thence northerly to the southeast corner of Eureka township, thence along the northern line of said township to the south line of Sierra county, thence east along the line of Sierra to the eastern boundary of the State, thence south along said State line to the north corner of Placer county, thence west along the line of said county to the place of beginning.

THE MINER is the name of a new paper to have been issued in San Francisco on the 1st instant by the California Mining Bureau Association. As the name indicates, the paper will be devoted strictly to mining interests on the Pacific coast.

A bill has been introduced into the Senate for the incorporation of Summit City.

LETTER FROM GOLD RUN.

GOLD RUN, March 9, 1866.

EDITOR ENQUIRER:--

"The times have been
That when the brains were out the man would die,
And there an end: but now they rise again
And push us from our stools."

Such are the ideas which forcibly suggested themselves to my mind on reading the last effort which you published of the coal-burner's private secretary and aspirant to forensic honors. This talented individual (?) whose reasoning faculties (if such powers ever found a "local habitation" in his limited cranium) have become decidedly opaque from too frequent contact with his employer, the man of coal, the devotee of Vulcan, the literary Tubal Cain and champion of Crockerdom, has, instead of successfully combating anything which I have asserted regarding the C. P. R. R. chosen to exercise what little ability he possesses in a feeble attempt at writing an elaborate essay upon what it would appear he conceives to be the demerits or misapprehensions of Quid Nunc. In the course of his valuable remarks, he states that he (either the coal-burner or the scrivener, it would be difficult to tell which) is not quite a savage, thereby implying, beyond a doubt, that he looks upon the affinity as being exceedingly close; and that he is "figuratively after my scalp." Come on, then, ye rail-roading literati! I rather imagine the attempt will turn out to be exceedingly figurative indeed. Mr. Crocker and his first lieutenant, must certainly retire to their nightly slumbers with quiescent minds, filled with the comforting thought that two such powerful intellects are using their most strenuous endeavors to manufacture a good name for them and their employés, even if they never had one before. N. D. very gravely observes that the blood of the railroad men whom I designated "despicable menials" should boil instead of mine. All I have to say in reply to this is, that if the shoe happens to fit any one or more than one of them, let them by all means put it on and boil as much as they please. The appellation was not meant for them all, but probably some of those bosom-friends of N. D.'s, whom he mentions so affectionately, felt it to be disagreeably appropriate. He further says, that I have not been "aggrieved or injured by any action of the C. P. R. R." He foolishly imagines, I suppose, that nobody has a right to open his mouth about the railroad gods, except some one who burns coal or performs some other service for the railroad requiring a like capacity. Again, he asks with the confident air of a man possessing the necessary amount of brains to enable him to reason a priori, if any one has been "benefited by my course," and answers with the most praiseworthy abruptness, "Not at all;" as if the most casual reader could possibly come to that conclusion or any other conclusion from the meaningless, illogical, disjointed sentences which precede this assertion. It looks to me as if he had been seized with a spasm just then, and continued to suffer from it all the time he wrote. He also remarks with apparent satisfaction that nobody employed me to "speak for them," and here I would inform the gentleman that, not being a penny-a-liner I generally speak for myself, and am not under the smallest obligations to truckle to any man or set of men, simply because they occupy prominent positions. I hate this miserable sycophancy which will bow down and worship a man because he is rich, with more abject reverence than a Chinamen does his Josh. N. D. states that my correspondence has resulted in injuring one firm to the extent of a thousand dollars. Now, I do not wish to accuse him of making a willful misstatement, but if he had made the slightest inquiry, he would have discovered that the firm in question was Mason & White, of this town, that Mr. Crocker pretended to blame Mr. Mason, for giving me items, and made my letters simply a pretext to cover up a foregone conclusion of taking the Chinamen whom these gentlemen were supplying away from them to trade elsewhere. This is the opinion which I hear generally expressed, and I entirely concur in it. I would state for the information of N. D. and all whom it may concern, that Mason & White are not the only sufferers by this system of wholesale domineering. Other respectable firms have been treated quite as cavalierly, and their experience will probably be laid before the public at no distant day. I had almost forgotten to mention the ludicrous spectacle which the "illustrious contractor" presented the last time he condescended to visit Mr. Mason for the purpose of expostulating with him. He rushed frantically into the store as if he confidently expected that Mason would lose no time in "making tracks" out of the back-door; however, M. boldly stood his ground, unawed by the august presence of his rather informal visitor, whom he somewhat disconcerted by the sang froid with which he replied to his bombastic harangue.

I must now proceed to that interesting portion of N. D.'s letter, where, by jerking out another of his usual spasmodic answers, he attempts to contradict my assertion that Mr. Crocker monopolizes the China trade. "Is that correct?" he says; "I think not," is the curt reply. Just at this period a light seems to have dawned upon his benighted vision; something admonishes him that this staccato style of reasoning is utterly futile, so he concludes it will be best to flop, which he immediately does, and in attempting to palliate Mr. Crocker's course of action, he pats him on the head and beslobbers him all over for doing just exactly what I have charged him with, viz: excluding respectable firms from a fair chance in the China trade; and I will add very mysteriously concentrating it so that only one or two persons can put Chinamen on the road at all.

"O learned judge!
A Daniel come to judgment:--yea a Daniel."

Did Crocker show you his books when you found out that he was pocketing $15,000 per month out of the "Johns" with a prospect of increasing it very soon to $45,000? Verily, he should reward you handsomely for the able (?) manner in which you have defended him. Your philosophy is rather worldly N. D.; in fact contemptible is a more truthful appellative. Nothing but a parasite will try to gloss over a man's doubtful actions because he "stands in high places." He of the anvil, evidently impressed into a state of utter bewilderment by the all-importance of Mr. Crocker and the magnitude of his commercial and other speculations, remarks in a style which would betoken his belief in the ignorance of the people generally regarding the multifarious cares and responsibilities resting on his (Crocker's) mind, that he has "other business to attend to" besides ministering unto the wants of the Celestials. This is a fact more widely known than N. D. imagines. One of the numerous ramifications of his business is quite classic; in fact, the utmost culture and refinement is absolutely necessary to its profitable prosecution. I allude to hog raising, in which delightful branch of commerce I am told that he and his first lieutenant are largely engaged. I believe that at the present time, some of the finest porkers in the State are to be seen on the line of the railroad; regular exotics, which have been forced into perfection by the refuse collected from the different camps. Shades of the defunct Shylock! I conjure you, for a short space of time to leave the bosom of Abraham, and visit this earth, especially Placer county, for the purpose of entering your strongest protest against the contractor and superintendent of a great national enterprise, descending from their legitimate occupation and devoting their attention to hauling swill for the cultivation of such vile beasts as swine.

"To what base uses we may return, Horatio!"

Perhaps N. D. could inform us which species of animal nets the most to the Company--the hog or the Chinaman. It is highly probable that in future I shall entirely ignore the senseless scribblings of the coal-burner and the eminent counsel (?) and pursue "the even tenor of my way" as heretofore. Local news will, I have no doubt, be read with much greater satisfaction by all your patrons.

THE "LIGHT FANTASTIC."

I cannot close without a short notice of the ball which came off last night at Mr. Rice's. I had not the good fortune to be present myself, but have been told by those who participated in the pleasures of the "mazy dance," that the whole affair passed off with considerable eclat. Despite the "pelting of the pitiless storm" which still rages with unabated fury, Dutch Flat turned out upon the occasion a perfect galaxy of beauty, and I may here remark that this defying of the elements by the fair sex of your town is duly appreciated by the people of Gold Run. I like the reciprocity of feeling which at present exists between the two places, and trust it may continue. To be brief, music by Glasscock and Montpleasure, "arose with its voluptuous swell; Soft eyes look'd love to eyes which spake again;" and--you can imagine the rest.

QUID NUNC.

LETTER FROM IOWA HILL.

IOWA HILL, Feb. 28, 1866.

ED. ENQUIRER:--I sincerely hope you will not expect, because I am addressing you this week, that I am intending or able to write you either a funny or a lengthy letter, for indeed if you do, I fear you will be very much disappointed; and at the same time I invoke the charity of your many readers, especially the Reliance boys and the members of the Pacific Guard--both of your place. I want to say to you a few words about your Firemen's Ball, and I trust that in so doing--even at this late day, my communication will not be out of place; for an affair like that of last week is worthy of notice--even if it was as "old as the hills." When I say that the Firemen's Ball was a most delightful party I believe I only reiterate the expressions of its many participants. A larger, more respectable, and orderly gathering it has never been my good luck to meet. I would like to hint that there were some of the finest dancers in all christendom; and as for the ladies--what shall I say? Why, they had eyes which lent a brilliancy to the sparkle of diamonds--whose voices were more melodious than the nightingale's, and whose every accent floated upon the fragrant atmosphere and charmed the ear in unity with the sweet strains of the orchestra! and then, their intelligence and wit! Every motion, every glance that issued from between their pearly teeth bespoke the refined lady. With such peerless ladies for companions, the gentlemen present were well adapted, and pre-eminently qualified to be associated with so much elegance and refinement, and it is but natural, and a kind of matter of course, that the commingling of such happy elements, could produce nothing but the sweetest enjoyment. The voluptuous strains of the music were like the sweet jingling of little silver bells. Pardon me, Mr. Editor, I hear them jingling yet. The dancing hall was a perfect paradise. Take it all in all, the affair was a brilliant one, and a perfect success. Your "b'hoys" know how to get up a ball, and I am only sorry that none of the beauties from this divide were present; though, I should have added one to the many, if the roads had been in better condition. During my stay I grasped the hands of many old friends, (of course you are included,) and the absence of anything like the "drop too much" was indeed remarkable. [Should think so.--ED] Now, I know I have not done justice, Mr. Editor. I intended to have treated your readers to a letter, pen and ink sketch, but a severe, though I hope not a dangerous illness prevents. May you live to participate in many more such pleasant gatherings. By the way, the ball at this place was a total failure, over which I am not at all surprised. Our citizens have a peculiar way of getting up parties, and consequently peculiar parties are the result. I believe when a public gathering is desired, public notice should be given, and that in time sufficient to give all ample opportunity to attend. The Justice's Court is now trying a disgraceful affair which occurred a few days since. I would tell you the whole of it but modesty forbids. It certainly looks bad to see two women fighting in the public streets, knocking each other down in turn, until both are exhausted and have to be carried away. If their self-esteem is of so little value to themselves, they should at least respect the morals of others. I don't want to hurt the feelings of any one, but I give them but good advice when I say to them refrain from any more such disgusting and vulgar displays.

LETTER FROM SUMMIT CITY.

SUMMIT CITY, March 7, 1866.

ED. ENQUIRER:—Seventeen hours from your (I might have said our) town, (three of which were spent aboard of a mud-wagon over roads sufficiently rough to suggest an earnest desire to be iron-clad; ten at Polleys, of Crystal Lake, where I indulged every comfort and accommodation of a first-class hotel; four devoted to exploring a dim trail through inaccessable cañons and over deep gorges,) and I find myself at this place partaking of Judge Jones' hospitality, snow-blind, and in a condition that demands thorough and immediate reconstruction. The tramp over the trail from Polley's to this place, notwithstanding the trail is broken and in the best possible condition for this season of the year, completely demoralized me. I thought of Jacob of old, bartening his birthright for a mess of pottage, and it occurred to me that could I thereby secure a ride, I would be tempted to open similar negotiations. But narry negosh, for the reason that I had neglected to speak to Tibbetts, the enterprising expressman, until all his horse flesh was otherwise engaged.

On my way over, I paid the Enterprise mine and mill a hasty visit, and found the greatest activity prevailing. This company give constant employment to nearly twenty men, who are all busily engaged in making preparations to drive matters ahead on a scale still greater. Of the Enterprise mine, it is a remarkable fact, and one I think, worthy of note, that although a pit or excavation several hundred feet in dimensions has been made; the company up to this time have been unable to determine the proportions of the ledge or the direction it assumes. The last of the machinery for the mill was brought in a few days ago on sleighs, and it will be completed and started up in about two weeks. Several other companies, among which I can now enumerate but one, the New York, are, and have been during the winter, busily prospecting in that vicinity. A town called Mendozia has been laid out near the same locality which promises to attain some importance during the coming summer.

At this place I find that many substantial improvements have been made since I left last fall, which would seem to establish the fact most clearly, that somebody has "peen here since I'se peen gone."

Frederick's saw-mill starts up in a few days. Winton's quartz-mill (the only one in operation) is running regularly on Pacific rock, which pays about $50 per ton.

Many claims are either at work, or will begin soon but I have had no time to gather particulars. The great and all-absorbing topic among the denizens of this burg is concerning the incorporation of their town. Mountain towns will have their splits whether they boast two churches, one, or as in this instance, none. Why, sir, I have known one-half of the sovereigns of a mountain village ready to cut the other half's throats over the respective merits of the different styled sewing-machines, if nothing else presented. The "irrepressible conflict" among the people here, from what I can learn, was engendered, or rather resulted, from the fact, that one portion of the citizens desired the town incorporated, while the other object to the modus operandi by which it is to be effected.

Toodles was performed last night by the Theatrical Club of this place, and to-morrow night, a grand ball comes off.

I give it as a matter of news from this place to "outside barbarians," and without any desire to be at all egotistical, that a gentleman is here on business connected with the starting of the REVEILLE, the first of which will issue, about the middle of next month. Snow six feet. QUITMAN.

IT is seldom indeed that an invention of any description, in any age of the world, has stood the test of time and competition against a host of formidable rivals with such unqualified triumph as has been realized by the celebrated Grover & Baker Sewing-Machine. The card published by this firm to-day in our paper is a record of victories that may well make them proud, and the tens of thousands who are using them happy in the consciousness that, in selecting this instrument in preference to all others, they are universally sustained by the best judges in the land. Almost any machine would receive an award of some kind by being generally exhibited wherever competition is invited; but this machine has carried off the palm, not only by the receipt of one, but more generally of three first premiums, in a dozen States of the Union, in a single season. The Grover & Baker Machine obtained the highest premiums for the best family sewing-machines, the best manufacturing machines, and the best machine work this year, in the State Fairs of New York, Vermont, Iowa, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Ohio; also, at the Fairs held in Chittenden county, Vermont, Champlain Valley, Vermont, Hampden county, Massachusetts, and in Franklin Queens, Washington, and Saratoga counties, New York. In other words, the Grover & Baker machine has taken the first premium wherever it has been exhibited, without a single exception.—Philadelphia Press.

IF YOU blood is corruption, disordered or vitiated, you are liable to be seized at any moment with a fit of sickness. It may appear in the form of pimples, blotches or sores, or it may suddenly prostrate you. One thing is certain: You cannot have health unless your blood is pure. To remove all impure matters from the blood, Adams' Blood Purifier is admitted to be the best preparation yet introduced to the public. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and will harm no one. Its effects are immediate and lasting. It purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves produces a healthy action of the liver and kidneys, and restores the patient to perfect health and strength. ja3m

DR. J. F. GIBBON.—This celebrated physician has returned to San Francisco, after an absence of a year, during which time he has visited the prominent hospitals in the United States, England and France; and having carefully studied the different mode of treatment in all those establishments, he comes back with full knowledge as to a proper adaptation of them in the effecting of cures here. He has returned and resumed the practice of his profession at No. 617 Kearney street, where his old patients may find him, and those who are suffering from ills which his practice will allow him to cure. His card will be found in another column.

MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine quo non to the welfare of our State and health of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natural result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not by defamation of others, to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. In no case does the Doctor make a charge unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt the consolation which appertain to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, it can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—News

CALIFORNIANS should test the merits of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand in the mines. Its daily use will the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health. Dec9-3m

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sick and troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 540, Washington street, San Francisco. Dec-3m

AT LEAST two-thirds of the Diseases with which the human family are afflicted, are brought on by the want of attention to the condition of the Blood. Whenever the blood becomes impure, no matter from what cause, the effects of such impurity are immediately felt, either in one way or another; and unless measures are at once taken to remove such impurities, the whole system becomes affected, and a long fit of sickness and sometimes death is the result. Dr. Samuel Adams, a well-known Chemist of San Francisco, has discovered certain herbs and roots, mostly of California growth, which he has combined with Sarsaparilla and Iodide of Potas, and succeeded in producing a Medicine that, while it is entirely harmless in every particular, will in short time completely eradicate from the Blood all impurities of whatever nature, and will restore the patient to perfect ROBUST HEALTH. The preparation is called "ADAMS' BLOOD PURIFIER," and is for sale at wholesale at the United States Drug Store, corner of Bush and Powel streets, San Francisco, and by Dr. D. W. Strong, Dutch Flat. 40

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

Very few persons, even among physicians, would have been willing upon any terms to have been in the condition of the writer of the following letter on the 14th of February last. I will anticipate somewhat his report of the facts by saying that on the 15th August, ult, he made me a visit, "the very picture of good health." Time, which tries and proves all things, has sufficiently tested this case, and shown that neither relapses nor collapses having followed, the cure is perfect, and can be cited among the scores of similar cases the result of my improved mode of treating diseases without medicine.

G. M. BOURNE,
Water Cure Physician,
No. 10, Masonic Temple, Post street.

AUGUST 27, 1865.

SACRAMENTO, April 30, 1865.

DR. G. M. BOURNE—Dear Sir:—It is with pleasure and satisfaction that I now let you know of my good health. Looking back on what I have passed through, it seems as if I was lifted from the grave, and I think it my duty to acknowledge to you and the world the benefit I derived from water treatment as administered by you in your celebrated baths. It was in August, 1864, when disease developed itself with a severe cough. I then took medicines, getting worse, with chills, fevers, loss of strength, and was pronounced consumptive. This set me to thinking, and finally I determined to leave my business and go the Sandwich Islands, having been informed that I could not be cured here. I went to San Francisco, and while waiting for a ship called upon Dr. Pourne, who stated that a trip to the Islands would probably result disastrously, was wholly unnecessary, as I could be speedily cured at his establishment. I placed myself under his treatment, and in one week I was so much improved I thought I could risk returning home and to my duty as Engineer on the Central Pacific Railroad. The Doctor objected; but I thought I knew better, and returned to duty. In about two weeks my cough returned, and I kept getting worse, and contrary to Dr. Bourne's injunction never to take medicine again, committed that folly, and soon was so completely run down that I could scarcely walk; so, as a last resort, I concluded once more to try the Water Cure. I went to San Francisco—few of my friends expecting me to return; in fact, I thought my return doubtful. On arriving at Dr. Bourne's establishment (February 14, 1865,) I was not able to get into the bath without assistance, but in a few days I began to recruit again. I remained with him only six weeks, when I left, "a wiser and a better man," without the aid of medicine. I have now been at work several weeks, and find that I am gaining every day, and at present bid fair to be stouter than ever before. Persons visiting the Doctor's establishment find it just what it should be, both in Ladies' and Gentlemen's Departments, and cannot say too much in praise of the Doctor's kind attention to his patients.

This letter I write for the benefit of all the afflicted, to be used as the Doctor decides, and should it be the means of directing any to his care and treatment who (as they assuredly will) find relief, I will be paid for my trouble.

JAMES CAMPBELL,
Engineer Central Pacific Railroad.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 22, 1865.

Advised by the undersigned, Mr. James Campbell, of the Central Pacific Railroad, (who was then in a most deplorable state of ill health,) placed himself under the care of Dr. Bourne, the Water Cure Physician. Some six months or more afterward he visited this city, when I accidentally met him at Dr. Bourne's establishment and am happy to say, restored to the enjoyment of good health, and in fine spirits. JOHN SULLIVAN.

☞ Dr. Bourne treats all diseases of the throat, chest, and lungs, which includes diptheria, bronchitis, incipient consumption, pleurisy, croup, etc.—with greatest success. Great relief is afforded in advanced stages of consumption. Rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, fever and ague, dropsy, etc., etc., are also cured quickly, pleasantly and economically. No medicine whatever.

Confirmation Strong, or an Interesting Letter.

SACRAMENTO, November 23, 1865.

DEAR DOCTOR:—I received your letter a few days since asking for my photograph, which I will attend to as soon as convenient. At present I am very busy on account of the stormy weather, being out at all times, both night and day, and am enjoying very good health, apprehending no danger if properly careful, as every one should be. I have read my letter in the CALL and other papers, and have been asked several times concerning it, and whether it is correct, and I say I can vouch for its contents, and more if required, and so can a great many others who knew me at that time. I remain your friend,

To DR. BOURNE, JAMES CAMPBELL.
San Francisco.

Dr. Bourne takes the liberty to publish the above, as many persons had prophesied the relapse into his former condition, on returning to his duties, of the writer of "An Interesting Letter," whose statements concerning the cure of a well defined case of consumption have recently attracted so much attention to the Water Cure, as improved upon and practised by Dr. Bourne. This additional testimony must prove satisfactory to all reasonable minds. It should be remembered that Dr. Bourne uses no medicines whatever, and that his patients almost universally are those who have failed to receive relief from the medical practitioners; yet they are cured with great rapidity, and in a pleasant and agreeable manner. ORIGINAL DEFECTIVE

HOME CONVERSATION.—Children hunger perpetually for new ideas, and the most pleasant way of reception is by the voice and the ear, not the eye and the printed page. The one mode is natural, the other is artificial. Who would not rather listen than read? An audience will listen closely from the beginning to the end of an address which not one in twenty of those present would read with the same attention; this is emphatically true of children. They will learn with pleasure from the lips of parents what they deem it drudgery to study in the books; and even if they have the misfortune to be deprived of the educational advantages which they desire, they cannot fail to grow up intelligent if they enjoy in childhood and youth the privilege of listening daily to the conversation of intelligent people. Let parents, then talk much and talk well at home. A father who is habitually silent in his own house may be in many respects a wise man, but he is not wise in his silence. We sometimes see parents who are the life of every company which they enter, dull, silent, uninteresting at home among their children. If they have not mental stores sufficient for both, let them first provide for their own household.

BADEN-BADEN ANECDOTES.—One gentleman at Baden-Baden, a Russian, was so elated after an unparalleled run of good fortune that he went out and ordered a glorious feed for himself and friends at the restaurant; but during the interval while dinner was preparing, he thought he would go back and win a little more. His good fortune, however, had deserted him, and he lost not only all his winnings, but every florin he was possessed of, so he was compelled to countermand the dinner. On the arrival of his remittances, determined not to be baulked of his repast this time by want of funds, he paid for a spread for twelve beforehand; but his luck was very bad, and he actually went back to the restaurateur, and, after some negotiation, sold him the dinner back at half price. The money he received was, of course, very speedily lost. Another, a student of Heidelberg, won at a sitting 970 florins, but, disdaining to retire without a round thousand, he tempted fortune too long, and lost it all back, as well as his own money. The most absurd thing was, that not having any friends in Baden, he was driven to return on foot to his university, a distance of more than 100 miles.

A NEW VIEW OF UNDERGROUND RAILWAYS.—The following is an extract from a letter written by Mr. George Catin, the traveler: "When her underground railways are completed, London will have ready for yellow fever, the plague, or other epidemics, the most extensive accommodation ever designed for such diseases, and that, too, with three millions of human beings over them ready for destruction. The fact is universally known that in all districts infected with yellow fever, the malaria predominates in the lower localities, such as in the vaults and cellars of houses, and in the holds and bilges of vessels. It has, therefore appeared to me ever since the construction of underground railways under London has commenced, that preparations are being made for a more terrible calamity than has ever yet occurred. If the plague or yellow fever were to break out in London as they do in other cities, that portion of the population who have the means to move would immediately flee to the country, while that portion who could not follow their example would speedily fall victims to the scourge.

AN EXTRAORDINARY RACE OF HUMAN BEINGS IN BERNEO.—They are found only in the densest jungle, and are said to have no habitation save hollow trees and natural caverns. They wander continually about the forests, and by their skill in woodcraft easily avoid contact. Should any man intrude into a district for which they have a momentary preference, he is instantly attacked with the deadly "sumpitan," or poisoned blow-pipe. It must be supposed that these wretched beings have a language, but it is difficult to discern any syllabication in their utterances. It is a curious and contradictory fact that these degraded, elementary creatures are better looking than any of the other native tribes. The contrast, which must be constantly urged upon the attention of the traveler in tropical countries, between the beauty and dignity of nature and the squalor and imperfection of the human race, is peculiarly strong and impressive in Borneo.

SHARP PRACTICE.—As an instance of sharp practice it is related that a merchant going to America and back, went to an insurance office and insured one thousand cigars, valued at £200 against loss by water or fire. After the lapse of six months he made his appearance at the office and demanded his money, as the cigars had been all burnt. "But not on board the vessel, sir," said the secretary, "for she is in dock now." "Yes, on board the vessel, I smoked them, and therefore burnt them all myself, and the insurance says against fire." The secretary seemed taken aback, and had nothing to say, so the merchant said he would call the next day for his money. He did so, and was met by the solicitor to the company, who told him if he did not relinquish his claim he would be prosecuted as one who had knowingly and wilfully set fire to goods insured by the company

POPULATION OF THE WORLD.—The population of the world is estimated at the present time to amount to 1,000,000,000 of persons, speaking 3,064 languages, and professing 1,100 forms of religion. The average duration of human life is estimated at 33 years and 6 months. A quarter of the children born die before their 7th year, and one half before their 17th. Of the 1,000,000,000 persons [illegible] 33,000,000 die each year, 91,000 each day, 3,750 each hour, or each minute, consequently one every second. These 33,000,000 deaths are counterbalanced by 41,500,000 births—the excess being the annual increase of the human race. It has been remarked that births and deaths are more frequent in the night than during the day. Calculating one marriage for every 120 persons of both sexes and of all ages, 83,000,000 are celebrated annually.

THE AGE OF LUXURY.—A correspondent of the London Post mentions, as a proof of the extent to which luxury in the present day has advanced, that an English jeweller received, while at Baden, an order for a betting-book to cost £560. It is to be set with diamonds and precious stones, and the pencil is to be surmounted by a black pearl of the estimated value of £160—a sum which would rather astonish Mr. Hill and Mr. Morris, who have betted thousands and tens of thousands in 1s. 6d. betting-books, with a couple of inches of the commonest lead-pencil. A Bond street jeweller also sold a watch to an Italian nobleman, for a lady, for 2,000 guineas, the value being made up in diamonds.

ONE HONEST OFFICER.—The State Geologist, Professor Whitney, has been a quiet worker for the good of the State. The Sacramento Bee says:

> We read the preface and introduction of the first volume of the Geology of California, hastily glanced over its remaining pages, and closed the book with an audible thankfulness that we had at least one man in the State who could neither be coaxed nor bribed nor driven from a legitimate course.

HANDS OFF!—A WOMAN FIRST!—The "great and resolute man," Andrew Johnson, the pride of the Democracy, has caused the removal of a woman from a clerkship in one of the departments of State because she published in a little Wisconsin paper an article condemnatory of his abandonment of the Union party. If it takes nine tailors to make a man, how many would it take to make a respectable President?

MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

ELECTRICITY AS A CURATIVE AGENT

When it was promulgated by the Directors of the Electropathic Institute that disease could be entirely eradicated from the system without the use of poisonous drugs the thoughtless and those who do not look deeply into cause and effect scouted the assertion as chimerical, and wrote articles replete with sophistry, claiming that only through the digestive system could the blood be purged of the poisons which constitute disease; a great cry went up from those interested in the continued supremacy of the old system of one poison to cure another. All of the empirics joined in the chorus, and in their ignorance laughed at the new system, circulating base stories of its ill success, and quoting imaginary cases as proofs. Time has demonstrated their dishonesty. After five years of uninterrupted success the Electropathic system is the leading idea in medical jurisprudence. While by the old system, physicians are contented to cure one in every five cases, there were those who were diving deep into the science of the curative art; among these were the Electropathists; finally, it was discovered that the failure in most of the cases of organic diseases, was entirely due to the machine. Taking this view of the case, Dr. J. H. Josselyn, after years of experiment, has perfected an Electropathic Instrument, which will cure any disease which flesh is heir to, always to be understood that the case is not so far advanced as to show a destruction of the vital tissue. From early morn until late at night, this instrument is employed, imparting health and vigor to all who are so fortunate as to obtain its services. We do not claim that the use of medicines may not be more advantageous in some cases, but, that in connection with machines, it will perform a cure much sooner than without, and also that diseases hitherto deemed incurable, can be cured by this system, but the Directors desire to take this opportunity to inform invalids that the Resident Physician is a regular graduate and has had large experience in the treatment of disease, both with and without the assistance of electricity; he has also discovered several "electric" Vegetable remedies that will cure almost any nameable disease, which he will send with full instructions for use, to any part of the Pacific coast upon a receipt of a complete description of the disease with which the applicant may be afflicted, and will warrant a complete and perfect cure in all cases where the medicines are used according to directions and more especially in all cases of female troubles, where great care and caution are necessary to a favorable result. Disease (which by the old system) took months, and even years to cure, are now cured in a few days or weeks. The cost, too, is not so great as by the old system, besides the saving of time. Connected with this system are the renowned than which there is no more powerful auxiliary in the world for the radical cure of disease. There is no institute in the State where the electropathic system is practiced, except at the

Electropathic Institute,

645 Washington street.

This Institute was established to, if possible prevent the unwary from falling into those dens of robbery (yclept quack doctors' traps,) and hereafter the scientific originators of this Institute will not be to blame if the afflicted are robbed of their money, and injured in constitution. There is another view of the affair. The rising generation should be reared with strong constitutions, and the Directors wish to arouse their guardians to a proper sense of their duties in the premises, if possible to prevent them from stuffing their young charges with deleterious drugs, with a chance of entailing upon the tender constitution just forming, a complication of evils, a thousand times worse than death.

It would be consuming space, to no purpose, to enumerate the diseases to which this system is applicable, suffice it to say, that there is no disease, within the catalogue of human ills but what can be cured at the Electropathic Institute. We have instructed the Resident Physician to warrant a perfect and permanent cure, or ask no pay for services, when in his judgement it is within the bounds of cure.

CAUTION.

Persons seeking the Electropathic Institute, should be careful to remember the name and number.

PRIVATE MEDICAL AID.

QUICK CURES AND MODERATE CHARGES.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY'S

Private Medical and Surgical Institute,

Sacramento Street, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office. Private entrance on Leidesdorff street, San Francisco.

Established expressly to afford the afflicted sound and Scientific Medical Aid, in the treatment and cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, cases of secrecy and all Sexual Diseases.

TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. W. K. DOHERTY returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he continues to consult at his Institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-Urinary Organs, and all private diseases, viz: Syphilis in all its forms and stages, Seminal Weakness and all the horrid consequences of self-abuse, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Nocturnal and Diurnal emissions, Sexual Disability, Diseases of the Back and Loins, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, etc., etc., and he hopes that his long experience and successful practice will continue to ensure him a share of public patronage. By the practice of many years in Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way, and has references from men of known respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him by letter or otherwise, will receive the best and gentlest treatment, and implicit secrecy.

DR. DOHERTY would call attention to the following certificates from two of his patients, who, having fully recovered their health, desire to make known their remedial agent. It will be seen their statements are fully authenticated by a Notary Public

The welfare of society imperiously demand their publicity, and they are given more to warn the unwary than to sound the praise of a Physician, of whom hundreds of like cases can be cited during a practice of more than fifteen years.

DR. DOHERTY—Dear Sir: I feel my health so fully restored, that in common gratitude, I believe I should make you some some written acknowledgement for your valuable services—particularly as your fee was small for the work performed.

I arrived in this city from the East about one year ago, and was then suffering from an old case of Gleet, complicated with Stricture. Being a stranger in this city, and believing those Doctors who gave such positive assurances of success were necessarily the best, (some of whom have a large number of titles,) I placed myself in their charge and continued under their treatment until I had lost nearly all hope and a considerable sum of money.

I wish to say now that you are the sixth Doctor I have employed, and the only one that has ever done me any service. My Gleet is wholly cured, the Stricture is all removed, and my general health is beter than it has been for years.

In conclusion, I would say to the many unfortunates who require medical advice, if you have any doubt as to whom you may employ, ask Dr. Doherty for my address and call and see me. (I keep store in this city.) My experience may save you many dollars.

I would also add that in the early stage of my disease, I used a large amount of the preparations advertised as an infallible cure for Gonorrhœ, Gleet, etc., but never derived any benefit from them.

I am, Doctor, very truly yours, L—H—.

Seminal Weakness—A Sworn-to Certificate of a most Remarkable Cure of Spermatorrhœa.

A desire to benefit humanity, and a feeling of gratitude to Dr. W. K. Doherty, alone induces me to make this statement. For many years I have been afflicted with that fearful disease known as "Spermatorrhœa," or Seminal Weakness, the result of self-abuse, but till 1855 experienced but little trouble or inconvenience. In that year however, I had Seminal Weakness to an alarming extent, which was soon followed by the most alarming symptons as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of vision, nervousness and general debility. My mind, too, was afflicted to such an extent as to seriously impair my memory; my ideas were confused and spirits depressed. I was averse to society, had evil forebodings and self-distrust, and was entirely unfitted for any of the duties of life. From 1855 to the summer of 1863, I employed the very best medical talent I could find, and spent several hundred dollars but in no instance obtained more than temporary relief. I had about concluded there was no relief for me in this world, but seeing Dr Doherty's advertisement, I thought I would call and see him, as he charged nothing for consultation. I had an interview with Dr. Doherty at his office, in Sacramento street, and his fee for treatment was so reasonable, I determind to try him, though I did not expect much benefit from his treatment. On the 5th of December last I placed myself under his care: in one week I found myself very much improved, and now, after five weeks' treatment, I feel myself thoroughly cured of all my troubles and in the enjoyment of the best health. Hoping that my experience may be of benefit to others similarly afflicted, I subscribe myself

To Females.

When a female is in trouble, or afflicted with disease as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, irritability, nervousness, extreme urinary difficulties, derangement of digestive functions, general debility, vaginitis, all diseases of the womb, hysteria, sterility, and all other diseases peculiar to females, they should go or write at once to the celebrated female doctor, W. K. Doherty, at his Medical Institute, and consult him about their troubles and disease. The Doctor is effecting more cures than any other physician in the State of California. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful sufferings and premature death. All Married Ladies whose delicate health or other circumstances prevent an increase in their families should write or call at Dr. W. K. Doherty's Medical Institute, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The Doctor's offices are so arranged that he can be consulted without fear of observation.

To Correspondents.

Patients residing in any part of the State, however distant, who may desire the opinion and advice of Dr. Doherty on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such, in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred. Dr. Doherty takes this opportunity of observing, that all letters are only opened and replied to by himself, and the latter as promptly as possible.

If the case be fully and candidly described, personal communication will be superseded, as instructions for diet, regimen, and the general treatment of the case (including the remedies), will be forwarded without delay, and in such a manner as to convey no purport of the letter or parcel so transmitted.

☞ Consultation at the office FREE. Permanent cure guaranteed or no pay. Address,

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE

has enjoyed on this coast an uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord's to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALE and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength from the frame: they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The mark can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venereal Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venereal, doubles its dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured; the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be Satisfied with Partial Cur

that leaves the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine. WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whose long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all cases entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT SPEEDY and PERMANENT.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS OR SPERMATORRHŒA.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization should stop consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion, unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lascivious dreams accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptoms of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive all diseases Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hopes of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence toward a premature and loathsome grave. To him who daily sees life dribbling out in the discharge of the vital powers of existence, in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, no mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim to his evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment. He adds to his misery [illegible] him. There is no rescue except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult those at once, a physician whose long practice and careful research has made them conversant with every phase of the disease. [illegible] have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills the [illegible] of sick-rooms with paralytics and consigns hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided [illegible] should consult, without a moment's delay, one who sympathizes with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each an assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT cure without hindrance to business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

Important to Females

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires medical or surgical assistance, the one should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of community? The Doctor, understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and by the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer, in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified unscrupulous and designing. Those families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied. The constantly accruing testimonials of their efficacy declare them to be pre-eminently superior in their action. No lady should be without these Renovating Agents.
